NTC Announcement: Pre Novice: Change in DRAW process

To whom it may concern,

18th June 2013

Further to the announcement regarding the new requirements and introduction of the Pre Novice components program, the NTC has proposed a new DRAW criteria for Pre Novice sections. This proposal has been passed by council and will come into effect for all competitions from 1 July 2013.

- The skating order for the Free Skating section for Pre Novices (Boys and girls), will be in the reverse order of the result of the Components program section.
- As per the previous communication, the two sections will each have their own podium and result, however the order of skating for the Free Program will be determined by the outcome of the components program. Eg the skater who wins the components program section will skate last in the free skating program.
- It is hoped that this will further incentivise the skaters and coaches to ensure that a lot of attention and preparation goes into the components program.
- There will be a Pre Novice "Components section winner" at the competitions but the winner of the Free program is the champion (Eg South African Pre-Novice Champion).

Kind Regards
